

Pathways to Invasive-Wise Education

Engaging people of all ages is key to protecting BC's amazing biodiversity by preventing the spread of invasive species.

WELCOME TO THE INVASIVE-WISE EDUCATION ACTIVITIES

On the For Educators webpage you will find BC prescribed curriculum-based activities that engage your students in learning about invasive species. These activities offer project- and inquiry-based learning opportunities that connect learners to local places. The activities can stand alone or be combined with Related Activities for comprehensive lesson plans.

HOW TO FIND ACTIVITIES AND LESSONS THAT MATCH YOUR TEACHING PROGRAM

1. On the webpage For Educators webpage, use the Search function to find Activities by various criteria including Grade, Subject Area, Outdoor/Indoor, Duration, and if it's a Physical Activity.
2. Use the table below to follow a Pathway according to grade and student level of knowledge and engagement.
3. Contact our Education Team at education.lead@bcinvasives.ca to let us know of your teaching plan and the support and resources you may be looking for.

PATHWAYS TO INVASIVE-WISE EDUCATION

Here are suggestions for Activities and additional ISCBC Educational Resources for just Starting Out on invasive species education, or to find engaging ways to have students Connect to their Place, and for getting outdoors and active with Take Action activities on exploring ecosystems and invasive species.

Start with Preparation for Educators by:

- Reading: What's the big deal? and Background for Educators
- Watching: Invasive-Wise Education Video Playlist on YouTube including: Invasive Species in BC
