

INVASIVE

Daphne

Daphne laureola

- My toxic sap can cause rashes, nausea, and swelling of the tongue.
- I'm often planted in gardens for my glossy, evergreen leaves, but thanks to birds who spread my seeds, I can quickly take over the forest.
- Another name for me is Spurge-laurel.